LEUVEN UNIVERSITY PRESS:

European Council Studies is an online series that follows the meeting pace of the EU Council.

With a subscription to European Council Studies you receive:

- a Pre-Summit Briefing on the evening before every EU Council meeting.
- a Post-Summit Briefing seven days after every meeting.
- an extensive European Council Note, which can cover more than one meeting and provides a more considered and still more richly documented account, two to four months after the meetings they describe.

All Summit Briefings and Notes are written by Peter Ludlow.

Funding

Research Networks

We're pleased to invite applications for new UACES-funded Research Networks (UACES RNs). The UACES RN funding stream aims to enable researchers to develop networks across a range of institutions, which may perhaps lead to bigger projects and funding from other sources in the future.

Deadline for applications: 29 October 2021

UACES Research Networks (with the support of the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union):

Applications are invited for two new Research Networks to run from 2022-2025 on any topic in contemporary European Studies. See more about the assessment criteria by downloading the application pack.

UACES-JMCT Research Network on Federalism and Europe

Applications are invited for one new Research Network to run from 2022-2025 on the topic of federalism, federal governance or regionalism in Europe, in line with the objects of the James Madison Charitable Trust \(JMCT\), broadly conceived. This RN will be generously supported by the JMCT.

The assessment criteria, finances, requirements and application process is the same for both kinds of RNs, but please state in your application if you would like to be considered for the UACES-JMCT RN.

Scholarships

We are pleased to inform you about the 2022 UACES Scholarships.

The scholarships are travel bursaries of 1500 GBP designed to support fieldwork in an area of contemporary European Studies.

Applicants must be PhD Researcher Members of UACES and can be based anywhere in the world; this funding will support them to travel to a different country to undertake research. The field work must occur between 1 February 2022 and 31 December 2022 (applications for trips outside of these dates will not be considered). The deadline for application is 15 October 2021.

There are 4x UACES scholarships available to UACES members.

More info and how to apply on our website.

Microgrants

UACES is excited to announce the next round of this grant scheme aimed at supporting research for our Early-Career and Individual Members. We have set aside up to £4000 to support this scheme in 2021.

Find out more about the new scheme and spread the word amongst your network.

Application deadline: 30 November 2021.

European Review of International Studies (ERIS)

CALL FOR SPECIAL ISSUES 2022 and 2023

The Editors of the European Review of International Studies (3 issues a year published by Brill) invite submissions either from individuals or from teams of scholars for the publication of a special issue of the journal in 2022 or 2023.

We are open to all imaginative proposals but particularly welcome those from younger European scholars in line with ERIS's mission to support international studies in Europe. Although any subject area within International Relations is eligible, we wish to encourage work on aspects of the following themes: changing diplomatic practices; social change and international politics; the international politics of health; Europeans' various encounters with their imperial past; the international politics of migration and diaspora.

A 3 to 4 page proposal can be sent to the editors by email. It must contain four elements: (1) a general presentation of the topic; (2) a provisional list of contributions and contributors; (3) data on the timeframe; (4) CVs of the guest editor(s).
